Ergonomic duty belt

The Dragon Skin DUTY BELT's inner belt expands and contracts with the outer belt. All of the components have to work together: the inner webbing with inner velcro along with outer velcro and outer webbing. All of those components will stretch together with every body movement, e.g. sitting, bending over or twisting from side to side. The expanding material used to obtain these features is man-made and as a result testing showed they did not change after over 250,000 times of stretch action, unlike elastic that will breakdown over a short period, because it is man-made.

When law enforcement officials acquire a mobile device, preserving the digital evidence is paramount. The most effective way to protect mobile devices and the integrity of the data is to place them in a Faraday bag by MSAB. Designed and handcrafted in Britain by Disklabs, an ISO9001-approved manufacturer, the bags are equipped with double-layered, military grade shielding mesh and a see-through window. They shield devices from Wi-Fi, mobile (3G/4G), Bluetooth, GPS and active RFID signals.

The THC Rapid Field Test Kit

Hemp Synergestics, LLC formed a partnership with the forensic scientists at Purdue University Northwest's Center for Crime, Forensics, and Security Analysis. After a year of research, development, and testing, the teams have developed a THC Rapid Field Test Kit that gives law enforcement an easy-to-use tool to distinguish hemp from marijuana in less than five minutes. The scientists devised innovative improvements to existing lab technologies to create a field-ready application. The product has been rigorously tested at Purdue University Northwest, which follows industry standards for method development and validation.

Front end protection

Setina push bumpers are built for maximum performance with a touch of the right aesthetics.

Heavy-duty, aircraft grade aluminum construction is a superior choice for corrosion resistance, allows for optimum fuel economy and weight distribution for better control, reduces front end fatigue, and satisfies Auto Maker's concerns on front end weight limitations. Constructed with a one-piece formed push rail design with unitized, interlocking cross support system for maximum strength and durability.

Underseat storage

OPS Public Safety's Secure Underseat Storage designed for pickup trucks sets the bar even higher for what's possible with pickup truck storage solutions. The Underseat Storage has been carefully designed to ensure easy access from both driver side and passenger side.

The dual lid design addresses the problem of accessibility due to split seats from both sides. The unique latch system makes it ideal for one-hand operation and is discreet which means it fits perfectly under the bench seat and no noise while driving or operating it.

Intense LED spotlight

The new LED Stryker by Golight offers tremendous intensity and clarity while reducing the amp draw by half.

The LED upgrade boasts a 100% increase in intensity compared to its halogen counterpart—the LED Stryker generates a Peak Beam Intensity of 410,000 candela.

Additionally, the hot spot, the most intense portion of the beam, comprises nearly 70% of the beam circumference, three times that of a comparable halogen unit. Choose from 3 different remote systems so you can position the light where it's needed and when it's needed. Upgrade kits are available for use with existing Stryker models.
